

THE WATERFRONT

THREE VESSELS SAILED YESTERDAY FOR THE COAST.

The Monowai from the Coast Tomorrow—Some Items Picked Up Along the Docks.

During the typhoons in the Chinese waters lately, the schooner of Mr Brown, who went to China in the Velocity several months ago, was dismantled. Many other vessels were also wrecked or disabled.

A private letter from a lady passenger who went to the Coast in the barkentine S N Castle, states that when a few days out from this port, the vessel sprung a leak and the pumps were worked night and day for a few days.

The steamer Kaala arrived in from Oahu yesterday with 300 bags of rice for M. Phillips & Co. She sailed again in the afternoon with a cargo of coal.

The bark Andrew Welch, Drew master, sailed yesterday with 2228 bags sugar shipped by C Brewer & Co, and 4560 bags sugar shipped by T H Davies & Co. The cargo was valued at $27,073.

The bark Andrew Welch and way ports today with a heavy cargo of coal and lumber. Mr L E Atwater went as mate in the steamer.

The bark Andrew Welch and Alden Besse and the barkentine Robert sudden took advantage of the favorable wind yesterday afternoon, and got a good offing. The first two vessels will go to San Francisco, and the barkentine will go to the Sound.

The bark Andrew Welch, Drew master, sailed yesterday with 2228 bags sugar shipped by C Brewer & Co.

The bark Alfred received an installment of sugar at Oceanic wharf this morning; she returned to Nuuanu street, pier to discharge the remainder of her inward cargo.

A supply of coal awaits the Monowai at Oceanic dock. The liner will be due from San Francisco tomorrow.

Tomorrow, high tide large 6:30 p.m.; high tide small 3:45 p.m.; low tide large a.m.; low tide small 9:20 p.m.

MARRIED.

WELLS-KINNEY—in this city, August 25, 1896, at the residence of Thos W Holborn, by the Rev S E Bishop, D D, Henry M Wells to Mildred Sessions Kinney.

Palet Is Its Name.

Climate of every variety exerts a different influence on the desires of mankind for a stimulant. In colder zones beverages of great alcoholic strength are used to a very much larger degree than in the tropics. Beer is best suited to our climate and none found in the market is better than that bearing the brand of "PALEST, MILWAUKEE." It is brewed from the best of malt and hops and is a great thirst quencher and invigorator and stimulates the nerves and muscles. At the Royal, Cosmopolitan and Pacific saloons it may be found, cold and pure. Interchangeable checks are issued which may be used at any of the three resorts.

M. A. Peixoto, proprietor of the Union barber shop, next to the Art Gallery, guarantees to give a shave that will make your hair curl with joy.

Harry Klemme has put a handsome refrigerator into the Louvre Saloon.

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR.

cerning my models of the caravels already executed, and on comparison with the plans and information in the possession of the Spanish authorities they were wonderfully close, the rig being almost identical, and the difference of tonnage being only about a ton on the tonnage of each caravel. My models were exhibited at the Chicago exhibition, at which exhibition I had the honor to represent Genoa. The account of my voyage over the track of Columbus has been printed in book form, with views, maps and track on charts. In returning to Europe in my yacht, after the Chicago Exhibition, I had a narrow escape, encountering a cyclone. All hands were lashed to the rigging, and the hatches battened down. One of the vessels of the Italian squadron lost most of her sails and two lifeboats. On arrival home the Italian Minister of Marine telegraphed his congratulations and thanks to me for the services rendered.

'You have recently visited South Africa and the Transvaal, I believe?'

'Yes, I left Genoa in December last, and London early in January for the Cape, and arrived after Jameson's famous raid. After visiting East London, Port Elizabeth, and Durban I went to the Orange Free State to examine some ancient paintings on the rocks in the Drakenberg mountains, said to be executed by Bushmen, and of which I made fac similes. I then visited Johannesburg. As soon as the Boers knew I had no political object in view, but was simply a foreigner engaged in travel and scientific pursuits, they received me most kindly and heartily. I visited the battlefield of Krugersdorp, where the traces of the fight with Jameson's men still remained, and was engaged in sketching there when the great dynamite explosion took place, with such dreadful loss of life, and got some snap shots of the explosion. After inspecting the mines of the Rand, and the diamond mines at Kimberley, returned to Capetown and came on to New Zealand, visiting the Wanganui River scenery, Parika, and had an interview with Te Whiti, and made a trip to the Lake Country.'

'What are your impressions of your recent trip to the South Sea Islands?'

'They are very pleasant. I have increased my collection, and also obtained a large quantity of curios, which are now being shipped to my home, Castello di Montegalletto, at Genoa. The customs, history, and migrations of those island races interest me, also the atoll formations. The Marquesas Group, especially, afford an inviting field for the geologist. As to the tattooing of the natives, it appears to be much more elaborate than that of the Maori. I have a large number of photographs and sketches executed during my visit to the islands, and also in my travels over the world. With regard to Easter Island, and its mysterious stone monuments and inscriptions of a bygone age by a bygone race, I have got pretty nearly all the literature published, with a view to elucidate the historical problem, also fac similes of the inscriptions. It is possible I may go to Mexico and Central America, in order to test some of the theories which have been propounded as to the race that raised those inscriptions.'

'What are your future movements?'

'I leave by the outgoing Frisco mail steamer for Honolulu, with a view of visiting the famous volcanoes there. While here I have visited the Auckland Museum and Free Public Library, and found much to interest me in these institutions.'

Captain D'Albertis is devoting his life to travel and scientific pursuits, and is giving to the world at large the benefit of his labors. It may be incidentally mentioned that Signor D'Albertis, one of the explorers of New Guinea, is a cousin of this gallant officer.
